OUR LIBERTY LOAN QUOTA $1,282,750

IS TWO AND ONE HALF TIMES GREATER THAN LAST

9 MILLIONS FOR DISTRICT

Secretary McAdoo, in Outlining Plan, Urges Larger Subscriptions From Wealthy Persons.

Nodaway county's quota for the Fourth Liberty Loan is $1,282,750, two and one half times greater than the quota for the Third Liberty Loan. Quotas for all districts and counties in the United States are based on individual deposits in banks. The amount of the quota was wired to Chairman W. C. Pierce late yesterday afternoon by the chairman of the Federal Reserve District at Kansas City.

The quota for Missouri reserve district No. 1 of the Tenth Reserve District, is $9,203,000. The district comprises the counties of Andrew, Atchison, Buchanan, DeKalb, Clinton, Gentry, Holt, Nodaway and Worth.

Six billion dollars is the minimum amount which the people of the United States are asked to subscribe for the Fourth Liberty Loan. The share allotted to the New York Federal Reserve District is 1,800 millions, or thirty per cent of the greatest loan yet offered. The loan which will bear 4¼ per cent interest, will run for twenty years, maturing October 15, 1938, unless the governmen t should exercise right to redeem the bonds on or after October 15, 1933.

Asserting that, without this vast sum, "we cannot lick the kaiser," Secretary McAdoo makes a special appeal for the subscriptions of corporations and wealthy individuals, as returns from the Third Liberty Loan indicated that wealthy corporations and persons of large means had not responded "commensurately with their abilities to help." He points out that of the 18 million Americans who subscribed for the last loan, only 22,500, including corporations, bought bonds in excess of $10,000.

Asserting that "everybody should buy bonds," Mr. McAdoo, in outlining the government plan said:

"Wages and salaries are higher in America today than ever before in its history. Those who spend eveyrthing they earn are not only living in a fool's paradise, but they are doing a grevious injury to their country. They are living in a fool's paradise because the same degree of prosperity cannot be expected to continue upon the return of peace, when the inevitable readjustments of all industries must take place; and they are doing their country a grevious injury because it is only by saving that we can provide our government with the money which it must have to buy the essential supplies for our military forces. Every dollar saved now and invested in Liberty Bonds will be worth much more when peace comes again.

"No man can shirk his duty without incurring the just reprehension of public opinion," concluded the secretary. "The acid test will be applied, and the shirker, whether from military service or in the field of labor or in the ranks of the wealthy, will be unable to withstand the finger of scorn which will be unerringly pointed at him."

LOCAL PLANTS TO COOPERATE

The Moore brothers and G. A. Pickens left at noon today to attend the meeting which was called by John Wunderlich, secretary of the second district, 11th region, resources and conservation section of the War Industries Board, St. Joseph.

NODAWAY VALLEY BANK, Maryville, Mo.

DRAFT MEN ADVISED

REGISTRANTS IN DOUBT SHOULD CONSULT ATTORNEYS

THEIR SERVICES FREE

Lawyers Working in Connection With Draft Board Will Charge No Fees. On Duty at Court House.

Members of the legal advisory board of the Nodaway county draft board, together with all members of the local bar are now busy assisting registrants with their questionnaires. The attorneys have headquarters in rooms on the second floor of the court house and registrants should go there instead of to the offices of the lawyers. The service is free as a part of the contribution of the attorneys to the cause of the country.

At the court house may be seen scores of persons daily. Not only are the registrants there with their questionnaires, but members of their families for whom they may claim exemptions, or others who appear for the registrants. The work will continue at least two weeks longer. Attorneys have made the request that the registrants observe certain rules.

In the first place the men should take their questionnaires to the boards if they wish help, the day or the day after they receive them. It sometimes is necessary to obtain information from distant places. If the registrants wait until the last day they may have to ask for an extension of time.

When a registrant has a dependent wife or children, they should accompany him to the draft board. When dependency is claimed the person who is the dependent is required to fill out papers and make necessary affidavits.

When agricultural exemption is claimed two affidavits are required, showing that the registrant is entitled to the deferred classification on these claims. In case of industrial claims for exemptions similar affidavits must be filed.

In cases where the registrant refrains from claiming exemption because of chivalry, another person may make the claim for the registrant, a member of hi sfamily or his employer. Provost Marshal General Crowder has asked that the registrants do not permit sentiment to stand in the way of claiming exemptions when entitled to it.

The questionnaires are mailed 10 per cent a day for ten days. The registrants have seven days from the date of receiving their questionnaires for making a return.

WOMEN'S DAY OCTOBER 5

Secretary McAdoo Sets Aside Day of Liberty Loan Campaign as Recognition of Women Workers.

October 5 has been designated by William G. McAdoo as "Women in War Work Day" as a fitting recognition of their part in the service of winning the war.

The following proclamation has been issued:

Millions of women in the United States are engaged in the war work. Seven hundred thousand women serve as active workers in the organization of the National Woman's Liberty Loan Committee. Seventy thousand women are employed on the railroads. Hundreds of thousands serve in clerical work directly related to the war. As many more are engaged in the Red Cross and other activities for the amelioration of war conditions. The women of America are doing their share in the winning of the war, both by actual hard work and by the tremendous force of their moral influence. It is fitting that their service should be memorialized and Saturday, Oct. 5, has been designated for observation in the Fourth Liberty Loan Campaign as Women in War Work Day.

On the Balkan Front and in Macedonia the Allies Are Increasing Their Gains.—British Troops Have Invaded Bulgaria.

BULLETIN.

London, Sept. 26.—The French and Americans have advanced several miles in their new offensive west of the Meuse. The new blow was brilliantly executed and progress was made along the entire front of attack. A previous dispatch said the French and Americans had assaulted over a front of thirty miles. The advance is going well and was thrilling, messages from the fighting zone this evening said.

London, Sept. 26.—Satisfactory progress was made today on the new Franco-American drive over a thirty mile front west of the Meuse, said a dispatch to the Evening Standard. The new drive started today in the Champaign region lies between Rheims and Argonne and it was indicated that the American attack was made on the eastern edge of the Champaign area or perhaps in the Verdun sector.

Paris, Sept. 26.—A new drive was begun today by the Americans and the French in the Champaign district, the war office announced today. The announcement gave no details further than the location.

On the Aisne front the French have extended their lines between the Ailette and the Aisne with the Germans making counter attacks in an effort to hold up the flanking movement of the French against Chemin des Dames.

The American drive on the Metz front was renewed Wednesday and further progress was made in the work of reducing the fortress. Both Americans and French took part in the attack.

London, Sept. 26.—The British smashed forward toward St. Quentin, capturing strongly fortified positions in the neighborhood of Solency and Gricourt, the war office announced today. A number of prisoners were taken and two German attacks at Gricourt were repulsed. The British also advanced northwest of La Basse and more than 100 prisoners were taken. The British also improved their positions northwest of Armentierres.

Advices from the front today say that St. Quentin has been mined by the enemy and that the officers of the German command have removed their headquarters out of the city, which has been stripped of its art works and treasures. The forces of General von Marwitz are now fighting along main positions of the Siegefried line. General Debeney, French commander and General Rawlinson, British leader, engaged in operations against St. Quentin have advanced nearly a mile in the past two days and are now within 4,000 yards of the city.

London, Sept. 26.—Another offensive of fifteen miles wa smade by the Serbians yesterday in the Balkan drive it was learned from an authoritative source here this afternoon. The new lunge was made in the direction of Ishtib. The Serbs are now driving in the direction of the Bulgarian frontier.

CRISIS IN HUNLAND

RETURNING TRAVELLERS SAY UPRISING IS IMMINENT

THERE IS DEEP UNREST

Many Who Have Had Opportunity to Study Conditions Say Germany Will Crumble Like Russia.

London, Sept. 26.—A great social up heaval is imminent in Germany according to travellers from there just arriving in Switzerland, said a Central News Berne dispatch today. According to the report there is deep unrest in Bulgaria and the thin bonds of friendship with Germany seem about to be severed and with a state of seige having been proclaimed at Sofia, many persons who have had a chance to study conditions in Germany, reported on arrival at Berne that Germany will crumble like Russia, all signs pointing to an uprising of the people.

The outstanding facts that lead to the expressed opinion that Hun prestige is on the wane and that a revolt will occur are these:

The Austrians pleading for peace and confessing only enough flour is left to last until January.

The Bulgarian armies hopelessly cut in two and in disorderly retreat.

Turkey disastriosuly defeated with the loss of two of her best armies and two of her richest provinces.

Germany is suffering the accumulated bitterness of ten consecutive weeks of continuous defeats along the whole extnet of what she regarded as the most impregnable part of her front, at the hands of armies she believed helplessly at her mercy, and looking forward with ever growing terror to the vengeance that is coming to her with swift foot steps for all her crimes at the hands of an American army stronger than her own. The French have truly baptized the present season "the autumn of vengeance."

MEMBER MISSOURI PRESS ASSOCIATION

The Chamber of Commerce of St. Louis is conducting a campaign for a more generous display of the American Flag. It has issued a circular which urges:

"Please display an American Flag—one that is not torn nor badly soiled—every day, both at your place of business and at your house. Let us stop this business of having strangers come here and comment on the scarcity of flags displayed."

Porto Rican cities display the American Flag more extensively than do many cities of the continental United States. Putting up a flag does not kill any Germans, but its psychological effect at home will be beneficial.

Especially when the Fourth LILberty Loan compaign opens in another week, we are urged to display flags.

Let's paint Maryville red—also white and blue.

French Girls Arrive.

New York, Sept. 22.—Sixty-two French girls, advance guard of 120 who have been awarded scholarships in American colleges as part of a movement to strengthen the ties of Franco-American relationship, arrived here recently. Chaperoned by Mrs. Stock Miller of Denver, and Dean Mary L. Deton of Carlton college, Minn., the students were met by Dr. Robert L. Kelly, secretary of the Association of American Colleges, which arranged for their coming.

Argentine women have won their right to all the professions, including engineering and law.

URGED TO CLAIM EXEMPTION

Crowder Says Not to Let Chivalry Run Away With Judgment.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Provost Marshall General Crowder again by formal statement has asked men registered under the selective service law who are now engaged i nanswering questionnaires not to let motives of chivalry prevent them from claiming exemption which their occupation or the stat us of their dependents entitles them to do so. He again pointed out that such claims can be made by a third person, and though local boards are endeavoring to ascertain the true condition even where a claim is not made, the necessity for expiditing the work makes it encumbent upon registrants to assist.

"This applies equally to those entitled to deferment on the ground of dependency and those on the ground of necessary occupational employment. Either the claim should be made by the registrant or by a competent third person in his behalf," he said.

C. J. Breedlove Writes.

In a letter to his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Breedlove, West 7th street, Private C. J. Breedlove, Field Remount Squadron 302, A E. F., writes. "I suppose you think it is a long time between letters, but as you know it takes a long time for a letter to come and go and you cannot expect a letter very often, but I don't see why you do not receive any letters from me. I have received all of yours and have never neglected to answer more than one or two. I am feeling fine, am tanned up quite a bit but tough as a knot. We have moved and I don't know if I may tell you where we are or not, but I'll not put it in this time. I have been in Paris twice and it is quite a place and very odd in a way too. Will write again next week."

STANDARD SIZE XMAS GIFTS

Standardization has been applied to packages containing Christmas presents for American soldiers in France, the War department announced today.

No limit is fixed on the diversity of holiday gifts, but the packages themselves will bear a startling sameness They must measure nine and four inches and the weight limit will be three pounds.

These containers may be obtained at any Red Cross chapter. Each soldier is limited to one gift. In order to insure their arrival by Christmas, the War department states they must be mailed not later than November 15.

IS A HELP TO THEIR FAMILIES

Red Cross Home Service Section Looks After Soldier's Home Problems.

The Red Cross Home Service Section of Nodaway County is rendering valuable service to the boys of this county who are now in our country's forces. They are helping the families of these men in many ways, especially in explaining to them the provisions of the War Risk Insurance Law as it relates to allotments and allowances, compensation and insurance.

The Home Service Section has opened an office at 221 South Buchanan street, and the representative of the Section is there every day between the hours of nine o'clock to twelve o'clock a. m. and from one o'clock to four o'clock p. m.

Recently the Home Service Section sent letters to all the men who have been called by the draft board to go to cantonments inviting them to come to the Home Service office where the work of the committee is explained and many perplexing problems which are worrying the boys are solved. Often times the mere fact that the soldier boy to be learns that the Home Service Section is in existence to help take care of his loved ones while he is away lifts a great load of worry from his mind.

The boys in this county are leaving us without these family worries. General Pershing has said, "A worried soldier is a poor soldier and it is the aim of the Home Service Section of our Red Cross Chapter to see that every reasonable service is given to the soldier's family, as nothing can destroy the morale of a soldier quicker than worry about the peace, safety and health of his loved ones back home.

The members of the Home Service Section in this county will be glad to be of service to the enlisted men and their families.

GEORGE ROB ELLISON,
Chairman, Home Service Section, Nodaway County Chapter, American Red Cross.

MUST SAVE PAPER AND TIN

Food Administration Restricts Use of Butter and Coffee Containers as Conservation Measure.

Tea and coffee will be sold only in non-metal containers as soon as the present supply of tin containers is used up, it was announced by the Food Administration today. This is due to the scarcity of tin and is a measure of conservation.

Coffee is to be sold at retail only in one, three, and five pound quantities, and tea will be packed in one-quarter, one-half and one pound containers. Square packages will be used as far as possible to save packing space. The packing and shipping cases will be of fiber to save the lumber ordinarily used in wooden packing cases and as a conservation of the steel in the nails.

The sale of butter in less than one pound cartons will be prohibited after January 1, 1919, according to an amendment made by the Food Administration. This was to have gone into effect September 5, 1918, but in order to prevent the waste of paper and cartons now on hand, this order was amended.

No quarter or half pound prints can be made or sold. However the retailer may cut any unit of a pound or more and sell a portion to consumer.

This rule will result in the saving of paper as it takes much more to wrap the quarter and half pound prints. It will also result in the saving of cartons and labor necessary in putting up the butter.

Soldiers Always Ready for Cake.

Guy Lincoln who is stationed at Camp Funston, Kan., was home over Sunday to spend a short furlough with the home folks.

He says he is delighted with army life but the thing all the boys like best are the letters and good things sent by folks and friends at home. Last week Guy received a fine cake from Mr. and Mrs. Guy Aley which not only he, but his chums with whom every soldier divides, enjoyed immensely and appreciated.

To Return From Colorado.

Mrs. Donna Graham will return tomorrow night from a visit of several weeks in Denver, Colo., with her sister Mrs. Kate Dynes and daughter, Miss Ethel Dynes.

Mother's Cook Book

Study simplicity in the number of the dishes and variety in the character of the meals.

The homes of a nation are its strongest forts.

Let Us Eat Fish.

The variety of fish is legion and only the limitations of shipping restrict us from all kinds. Those who live near the sea coast have a large choice, while the inland dweller may have a limited number. They are very good.

Some fish are best baked, others breaded and fried, while others are best broiled or boiled.

Jellied Fish.

Take two pounds of any large steak fish, two cupfuls of strained tomatoes, one teaspoonful of onion juice, a teaspoonful of salt, half a teaspoonful of table sauce, six stuffed olives, one hard cooked egg, three tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin and six thin slices of lemon. Cook the fish in three cupfuls of boiling water for 20 minutes. Remove the fish and return the stock to the fire; reduce to one pint by boiling. Strain, add tomatoes, onion and seasoning. Cover the gelatin with two tablespoonfuls of water, then add to the boiling stock. Remove the skin and bones from the fish, break it into flakes and put it into a mold or bowl rinsed with cold water. Cut the lemon, egg and olives in thin slices, put around the edge of the bowl, then slowly pour in the mixture. Set in a cold place until firm; then turn out on a chop plate that has been lined with shredded lettuce. Garnish with lemon and a few rings of stuffed olives. Serve with tartare sauce or salad dressing.

Deviled Fish.

Cover three to four pounds of fish with boiling water, add one small onion and one tablespoonful of salt; boil for 25 minutes. Take from the water; when cooled, pick the fish, discarding the bones and skin. Put into a bowl and add the sauce, mixing well; put into ramekins, sprinkle with bread crumbs; place the dishes in hot water and bake for 15 minutes. Sauce—Put three tablespoonfuls of flour and two of butter in a saucepan; cook until smooth, then add one and a half cupfuls of milk, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, a tablespoonful of onion juice, the same of salt, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper and one-half teaspoonful of dry mustard. Cook all together for five minutes; then it is ready to serve with the fish.

Crab Salad.

Line a bowl with shredded lettuce and put four cupfuls of crab meat in the center, cover with well-seasoned mayonnaise. Garnish with a cupful of sliced pickles. Sprinkle with chopped green pepper, capers or stuffed olives.

California Women on Farms Successfully Execute Work Formerly Left to Their Men

Four hundred and sixty-five "farmerettes" were sent out from the southern California branch of the woman's land service at Los Angeles from May 1 to July 17, last, to aid California ranchers in their efforts to increase the country's food supply. Nearly all of these have remained in the service, and as proof that these young women are capably filling the places of men called into the army or other activities connected with the war, it was pointed out at the headquarters of the service that many of their requests for help came from ranches near those to which units had previously been sent.

Volunteers in the woman's land army sent out from Los Angeles include teachers, stenographers, saleswomen, waitresses and school girls. Most of them have been employed in gathering and preparing for market deciduous fruits. Activities of others have included driving tractors, dairying, planting tomatoes, harvesting various crops and making hay.

The dairy industry has taken large dairies near Los Angeles, women having largely replaced men as milkers. Of the first units sent to the dairies only a few of the young women had milked before, and most of them were unaware that there is a "wrong" as well as a "right" side to a cow until they had been kicked over by outraged animals.

Stork and Cupid Cunning Plotters

Many a New Home ... Sunbeam to Brighten ...

Cupid and the stork are held up to veneration; they are rated as cunning plotters to herald the coming of the little stranger to gladden the hearts and brighten the homes of a host of happy people.

There is a most powerful preparation, known as Mother's Friend, which has been used by women for over half a century before the arrival of the stork. This is a penetrating external application for the abdomen and breast, which, when rubbed into the walling muscles, helps to prepare them for the coming strain. They are made elastic and pliable so that when baby comes they expand with comparatively little pain and danger at the crisis is naturally less.

Then, the breasts are not torn and drawn with that usual wrenching strain, and many distressing, even dangerous, nausea, bearing down and stretching pains are among the discomforts and complications experienced women who have used Mother's Friend say they have entirely escaped by the application of this time-honored remedy.

Thousands of women have used Mother's Friend and know from experience that it is one of the greatest contributions to healthy, happy motherhood.

Write to the Bradfield Regulator Co., Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for their "Motherhood Book." There is a wealth of instruction and comfort to be derived from reading this little book. It is plainly written just what every woman wants to know. Get a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist today, and thus fortify yourself against pain and discomfort.

Thinks French Are the Most Patriotic People on Earth.

Cyril Paul Thompson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Thompson of this city, has written the following letter to his parents upon his arrival in France. Young Thompson worked with his father in the Thompson barber shop before enlisting and was a member of the Maryville band.

Somewhere in France, Aug. 28, '18.

Dear Father and Mother:

Well, I am here safe and sound, and I sure love the country. We went through several cities in England, and saw many beautiful scenes along the road.

We play most every day, and playing sure helps to pass the time. All I have seen of England is indeed very beautiful. I sure will be able to keep you listening by the time I get home. I am feeling fine, and outside of a hike now and then, I don't have much to do but sleep and eat.

We are being treated, very well, and so far I like my new surroundings fine, as for the horn I don't know whether I am going ahead or back.

Say, Dad, you should have heard us play "The Stars and Stripes" the other day, it would have made your hair stand on end. Sure some swell.

It would do you good to see the way the French greet the doughboys. There is not a more patriotic nation on earth. From kids to old men salute as we pass with the colors.

I hope you will not worry about me, for I am safe and in an organization of dandy fellows. We hardly have time to get homesick.

Our trip on the ocean was very uneventful—just water. We played on deck every day, and you would be surprised how a little "Jazz" cheers the fellows up.

There is not much else to say, as you can see everything is fine, far beyond expectations.

I still hit the bass a little every day, what they say about bands not taking their instruments along with thme is all bunk. My horn weighs 30 pounds, and I can sure tell she is along.

I just got through mess, and it is rather dark, so I will ring off, trusting you are well and contented as I am.

I am your loving son,

Wilfred White Keeps His Genial Jolly Spirit in War, Too.

Wilfred White, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. White, living west of the city, has written some very interesting details of his work in the following letter.

In Active Service with the A. E. F., Sept. 1.

My Folks: I received your letters dated July 28 and August 10. I sure was glad to hear from you, a letter from home looks good to me. I never felt better in my life and get to see all I can too. So am pretty well contented but will be glad when it is all over. I am driving the Colonel's car now, was transferred to a truck company in June, was there about three weeks when my old captain came over after me again so you see I am in the old outfit once more. I like the job fine, the car I drive is one English Sunbeam—a good car. I sure have seen some sights since I left Fort Sill. New York was the first, then England, then France. I have had the privilege of being in Paris, that, believe me is some town.

If I could only have talked French I would have seen more, but I am learning to talk a little now. What German I know is a big help to me, I am getting so I can understand and talk it pretty well.

The weather here has been cool and rainy lately. I got a letter from Emmett Sturm the other day and saw Fred Jamison and Leo Knox a few days ago. They were both feeling fine. You said you thought I could hear the thunder of battle. I sure can. I wish you could have been with me the other night, I was up in the observation post and watched quite a little action. You have seen pictures of battles. Well, they don't do it justice. Don't worry about me. I am safe and sound and hope to continue so. John Lavelle, Jim McMahan and I all bunk together They are all O. K. I am answering mother's last letter in this for stationery is so scarce.

I saw Warren Reaksecker's regiment the other day but did not have time to look him up. I have never seen Arch Carter, what is his regiment. So sister is carrying the mail for awhile. How does she like it?

It has started to rain. I will have to close the windows and start the fire in the stove. We feed it with pine cones. I suppose you saw by the papers we are at the front. You should have seen me the other day. I had tea with a French family in the rose garden. I never saw such roses in my life. They had one bush that would cover the whole side of our house with roses that were about four inches across and snow white. I am sending a little souvenir in this letter that I think will pass the censor alright. It is the red band off a German service cap. The uniform of the Germans is light green. I must close. Letters from the states sure look good to me.

TELLS OF K. OF C. WORK ABROAD

Fred Messbargar, a Member of Maryville Council Writes to Fellow Members.

France, Aug. 30.

Mr. A. C. Cummins, Maryville, Mo.

Fellow Knights: Having witnessed the good work carried on by the K. of C.'s in some of the great army cantonments and noting the splendid results obtained among the boys training there, I now write to make known the wonderful work being done by the Knights of Columbus over seas. It is a source of pleasure for me to announce and verify the fine work in both England and France. Almost every city of any size in both these countries has established quarters for their wonderful organizations which are always open to the man in uniform. Paris is the main headquarters for the Knights of Columbus and has established new club rooms at 27 Boulevard Malesherbes. The club is open to officers and men in uniform. The new club occupies two entire floors and its spacious rooms offer many facilities for the entertainment of the soldiers and sailors. On the ground floor are the library, reading and writing rooms. The latest papers and periodicals are available at all times, and a library of fiction, military and technical works, nearly a score of writing desks with pen and ink and free stationery are available. Four billard tables are located on the second floor. A piano and victrola are there for musical entertainment and for the use of the men in special concerts and entertainment.

The Knights of Columbus slogan, "Everybody welcome and everything free," defines the policy which governs the club and which makes it so popular among the boys in khaki. I was greatly surprised to see so many third degree members as there are in Uncle Sam's army. It only goes to prove the growth of this great organization. I am glad I am able to report that all the boys who came to the army at the time I came are all well and all anxious to get a whack at the Kaiser.

Hoping this will find the Maryville Council progressing very nicely and assuring you I am first and last for the K. of C.'s. Fraternally yours,

PVT. FRED MESSBARGAR,

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR

MOLINE UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem

Model D

Because of its ideal design, construction and performance, this new Moline-Universal Model D enables one man to farm more land and produce more food than ever before possible. It is the world's most dependable farm hand.

New features include self-starter; electric lights; electrical governor; perfected overhead-valve, four-cylinder engine that is free from vibration; complete enclosure of all moving parts; differential lock which increases traction.

Drop forgings, heat-treated parts, steel cut gears and unusually large bearings add extra years of endurance.

These new features, together with the well known Moline-Universal type—all the weight on two wheels, one-man control and ability to do all farm work including cultivating—make the Moline-Universal Model D the best tractor money can buy.

Conservatively rated at 9-18, the new Moline-Universal has ample power for heavy belt work, and can plow as much in a day with two plows as the ordinary three-plow tractor, because of its greater speed. Yet it is light enough for such work as cultivating, mowing, etc., which do not require so much power.

We will be glad to tell you all about this wonderful tractor. The next time you are in town call on us.

ARMY LIFE CURES WANDERING

Lester Holaday Writes Interesting Letter to Mother Here.

Mrs. Ida Holaday has received the following letter from her son, Lester Holaday, who is with the supply company of the Field Artillery in France.

France, Aug. 30.

My Dear Mother: Here comes another letter to let you know that I am still alive and feeling fine. All except me have a cold. How is every thing back home. I dreamed last night that I was home again. Oh what a pretty dream, I could see old Maryville with her beautiful white way and pretty buildings. It seemed as though it was the prettiest sight I had ever seen. Yes, our pretty little city was simply great. I wonder if dreams ever come true. That is one that I sincerely do hope comes true. I had a letter from Blanche and she told me about little brother going back home with them. I sure bet he is enjoying the time of his life and that little sister sure misses him. * * You can tell her I am going to stay at home when I get back and that I never will roam around like I used to in the days of long ago. This army life will cure and make a wanderer of the man who was never farther away from his home than his own barn. There will be plenty of tramps on the road after this war is over but the world will never catch any of us old tramps again.

We have had plenty of tough life and we are all taking the cure now. I have mine and have heard lots of them say the same thing. This army life has done me good in one way. I will have to close, hoping to hear from you and little sister and brother real soon, so I will bid you a loving good-night.

From your son,
LESTER HOLADAY.

Wesley Ashbrook Likes France But Wants Home News Often.

Mrs. Tom Ashbrook of Burlington Junction has received the following letter from her son, Wesley, who is in service in France.

Dear Folks and All: I will drop you a few lines to let you know that I am fine and dandy, feeling good and everything is well. I had a fine trip across the water, had a good ship and everything was well. It was far better than I was looking for and this country is the most beautiful place I ever saw in my life. The people here are kind and generous and do everything for a soldier that they possibly can. The haven't much to help us with but they give us the best they have. Their ways are so different they seem quite funny at first, but we have few difficulties in making the people understand what we want. I have a French book that has French and English both in it, so I get along pretty well for many of the people can understand both French and English and a few can read it. How is everything at home and is there anything new. I can't write a great deal this evening and if you don't hear from me often don't think anything for you know that the mail system here is not good as it is in America. Don't be uneasy and don't worry for I am in a nice place. no danger whatever. So don't be uneasy for it won't be long til we get back home. Write as often as you can, big long letters with lots of news in them. Goodbye, with love.

As ever your son,

PLAN ATHLETICS FOR S.A.T.C.

Sports of All Kinds Will Be Encouraged at Normal and with Neighboring Institutions This Winter.

The committee on education and special training has sent to presidents and commanding officers at all Students' Army Training Corps institutions the following letter defining its policy with reference to athletics:

1. It will be the policy of the committee strongly to encourage athletic sports within each institution, and among neighboring institutions in cases in which the distances are so short as to necessitate no interruption of the weekly schedule of academic and military training.

2. Athletic sports as formerly pursued, involving extended trips and specialized training, are inconsistent with the soldiers' program of drill and study Athletic directors and professors of physical education who are already in the employ of Students' Army Training Corps institutions can be used in connection with intermural sports, and for the assistance of the officers in charge of military physical training.

3. The commanding officer at each institution will be in charge of the physical condition and training of the men under his command, and will be responsible for coordinating the military training, routine and discipline with athletic sports.

Committee on Education and Special Training, R. I. REES, Colonel, General Staff Corps, Chairman.

HUN POWDER PLANT BLOWN UP

Letter Found on German Prisoner Tells of Explosion in Which Thousands of Lives Are Lost.

With the British Army in France, Sept. 25.—A graphic description of the blowing up of the German powder factory at Plauen in which more than six thousand employees were either killed or injured, is contained in a letter found on a prisoner taken by the British. The story of the Plauen explosion was suppressed by the German government.

WOMAN DOCTOR WINS FAME

National Magazine Carries Write Up of the Work of Dr. Grace Phelps Nickerson.

Dr. Grace Phelps Nickerson of Los Angeles, Cal., formerly an osteopathic practitioner in this city has made an enviable reputation in her profession along two particular lines of work—conducting her own clinic and in her tonsilestomy, demonstrating the practically bloodless method of eneuculation as told in the August National Magazine.

Excerpts from the article follow:

This is indeed the age when women are coming to the fore. A distinctive worker along professional lines is Dr. Grace Phelps Nnckerson of Los Angeles. As a specialist in ear, nose and throat troubles, she has won an enviable position in her profession after years of untiring energy and devotion to her calling.

Today, in addition to her own extensive and growing practice in delicate and difficult operative work, Dr. Nickerson has the unusual distinction of conducting her own clinic. Two and three days weekly some of her most difficult operations are performed for the observation and instruction of advanced students of the Osteopathic College of Physicians and Surgeons. This clinic is devoted to the Browslen Settlement work where no less than fifteen hundred patients a week receive skilled and scientific help in their specific ailments. It is an altogether worthy source of relief, since ten cents is the fee charged for each examination and the three dollars charged for an operation is received only from those who are able to pay—an example of efficient aid which does not pauperize the poor.

In her testimony Dr. Nickerson demonstrates the new practically bloodless method of eneuculation, or in every-day parlance, the dissection of the tonsil by a certain peeling of the membrane, as an "orange out of its skin." The almost instantaneous recovery of her patients is thus assured, without the former enervation caused by the loss of blood. She has made some truly remarkable cures of catarrhal deafness of long tsanding. Most frequently such conditions are due to adhesions on the eustachian tube which interfere with proper aeration of the middle ear. This specialist maintains that the layman is the uncsonscious cause of many afflictions, either by serious neglect or by bungling treatment.

BATTLES START AT TAPE LINE

Allied Armies Use Same Tactics as Are Employed at Athletic Meets Officers Watches Syncronated.

With the British Army in France, Sept. 21.—The Allide armies start their battles from a tape-line just like runners taking part in an athletic meet. A strip of white tape, an inch wide, marks the assembly line from which the troops "go over."

The troops gather under cover of darkness and awit the ('zero hour," which is guarded with the strictest secrecy. All the watches of the officers are synchronated. The soldiers await the word to start. It may be given at midnight or at four-fifty o'clock in the morning.

I've seen an attack started by the Americans along the Marne in the mid-afternoon sunlight, but the onslaughts usually are launched before daybreak, or during a fog.

The British have developed an ingenious smoke screen, which, coupled with the artillery, baffles the enemy.

I've seen troops march silently during the night to the assembly tape. I've heard the boom of the great guns and seen the flashes marking the barrage as a flood of men rushed forward. It seems incredible how any living thing could come through such infernnos, when at dawn you trudge across the fresh battlefield and see the starting tape lying on the scorched grass and across mighty shell craters.—Bert Ford, I. N. S. Cor.

HOW TO AVOID INFLUENZA

Plenty of Fresh Air and Cleanliness Are the Best Safeguards, Surgeon General Points Out.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 26.—So high has become the death toll of Spanish influenza in the army and navy and citizenry of this country that the surgeno general of the army has issued rules to observe in avoiding the disease.

President Wilson urged that the directions be widely distributed throughout the country.

The President will later order the directions placarded and posted in all government departments and army and navy posts.

The directions follow:

1. Avoid needless crowding—influenza is a crowd disease.

2. Smother your coughs and sneeze—others do not want the germs which you would throw away.

3. Your nose, not your mouth, was made to breathe through—get the habit.

4. Remember the three "C's"—a clean mouth, clean skin and clean clothes.

5. Try to keep cool when you walk and warm when you ride and sleep.

6. Open the wndows, always at home nights; at the office when practicable.

7. Food will win the war if you give it a chance—help by choosing and choosing your food well.

. Your fate may be in your hands—wash your hands before eating.

9. Don't let the waste product of digestion accumulate—drink a glass or two of water on getting up.

10. Don utesa 'sSHRDSHRDLSHR

10. Don't use a napkin, towel, spoon, fork, glass, or cup which has been used by another person and not washed.

11. Avoid tight clothes, tight shoes, tight gloves—seek to make nature your ally and not your prisoner.

12. When the air is pure, breathe all of it you can—breathe deeply.

HOW TO USE AMERICAN FLAG

D. A. R. Will Give Wide Publicity to the Proper Uses of Loved Emblef.—Its Desecration.

Members of the D. A. R. have undertaken to give widespread publicity to rules for the proper use of the American flag, which are given herewith:

The flag should not be raised before sunrise and should be lowered at sunset.

On Memorial Day, May 30, the national flag should be displayed at half staff until noon, then hoisted to the top of the staff, where it remains until sunset.

Colors on Parade. When the colors are passing on parade, or in review, the spectator should, if walking, halt; if sitting, arise stand at attention and uncover.

When Portrayed. The flag when portrayed by an illustrative process should always have the staff so placed that it is at the left of the picture, the fabric floating to the right. In crossing the flag with that of another nation, the American flag should be at the right.

"The Star Spangled Banner." When ever "The Star Spangled Banner" is played all persons within hearing should rise and stand uncovered during its rendition.

Used as a Banner. When the flag is used as a banner, the blue field should fly to the north in streets running east and west, and to the east in streets running north and south.

Used on a Bier. When the flag is placed over a bier or casket, the blue field should be at the head.

Desecration of the Flag. No advertisement or lettering of any sort should ever placed upon the flag, nor should it ever be used as a trade-mark. It should not be worn as the whole or part of a costume, and when worn as a badge it should be small and pinned over the left breast or to the left collar lapel.

Displaying the Flag. The flag, out of doors, should be flown from a pole whenever possible. In the United States Army all flags are suspended from poles and in no other way.

Used in Decorations. When the flag is hung vertically (so it can be viewed from one side only) the blue field should be at the right, as one faces it. When hung horizontally, the field should be at the left. The flag should never be placed below a person sitting.

Decorative Wall Paper First Appeared in Europe During Seventeenth Century

Among many other and useful beautiful things for which we are indebted to the Chinese, wall paper is not the least, notes a writer in the Pittsburgh Dispatch. This decorative paper for walls seems to have first appeared in Europe toward the end of the seventeenth century. It was brought to France by overseas traders, and the French immediately perceived the possibilities thus offered. The paper did not come in rolls, as we have it today, but in sheets about three and one-half feet wide by ten feet in length. Some of the finest grades were printed by hand and the cheaper grades from wooden blocks. The patterns represented animals, temples, warriors and all the other familiar figures of Chinese art. The French called these new wall coverings "pagoda papers," and it soon became the fashion to have at least one or two rooms in every home of any pretensions finished with "pagoda papers."

Throughout the eighteenth century the custom gradually spread. Both in France and England there were adaptations of the Chinese idea. There is a record of wall paper in England as far back as the time of Henry VIII, when the inventory of a monastery included "chamber hangings of painted papers." There are now in existence examples of English wall paper from the reign of Charles II.

Some of the early attempts in the manufacture of wall paper are highly interesting. Tapestries were the elegant wall coverings through the renaissance, as they have been during the middle ages. But tapestries were expensive and beyond the reach of ordinary persons. So a good citizen of Rouen named Le Francois hit upon the idea of imitating tapestries. He had fanciful drawings made in the tapestry style on large pieces of paper pasted together in about the size of a tapestry. Upon these drawings Le Francois spread a kind of mucilage and then sprinkled the mucilage with powdered wool in different colors. "Papier volute," as it was called, then came into general usage.

Our Men Now Battling Hun Will Be Welcomed Home by Veterans of Previous Wars

It is certain that some of the American soldiers now battling the Hun will be still living in the year 2000.

What world changes they will have witnessed, observes Philadelphia Telegraph.

James Parton, the historian, says that in 1888 he talked with two Englishmen who had fought against General Jackson at New Orleans 73 years before.

There are still living about 500 veterans, according to the pension records, who were in the Mexican war, which ended 70 years ago.

Eleven survivors of Bunker Hill heard Daniel Webster speak 75 years after that historic battle.

Since 230,000 Union soldiers of our Civil war were only sixteen years of age or younger, it is not surprising that scores of thousands of Grant's "Boys in Blue" still enjoy vigorous health 53 years after Appomattox.

The last soldier of Waterloo lived more than 90 years after the fight.

AIRY SQUIBS

Profitable One.

"I know a man who sticks to his business, although he has had nothing but reverses since he entered it."

"What does he do?"

"Turns somersaults in a vaudeville acrobatic team."

Wings.

"Riches have wings," remarked the ready-made philosopher.

"Yes," replied Mr. Dustin Stax; "and I might add that they can be useful in many ways in hands of a skillful aviator."

Two-Thirds.

"I ordered a beefsteak smothered in onions."

"What did you get?"

"I got two-thirds of the order; the bill and the onions."

His Little Joke.

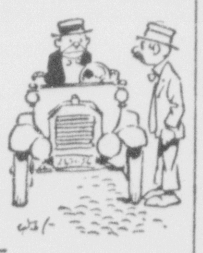
"The use of adjectives sometimes obscures the meaning of a speech."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum. "Instead of being a modifier an adjective may be a muddyfier."

Agreeable Coincidence.

Creditor — You couldn't ride around in your fine automobile if you paid your honest debts.

Debtor — That's so. I'm glad you look at it in the same light that I do.



Their Class.

"Were there spirits at the seance you attended?"

"Yes, sir."

"Good or bad spirits?"

"Very bad, sir."

"Why, did you see them?"

"No, I didn't see them, but I could smell 'em."

U. S. War Industries Board Restricts Clothing Styles to Save Wool and Leather

Necessity for wartime conservation of wool and leather will be further reflected in civilian footwear and men's clothing for next spring trade.

Restrictions upon manufacturers announced by the war industries board are expected to effect a substantial saving of leather and cloth so necessary for the nation's ever increasing fighting force. Both quantity and styles will be affected.

The height of women's shoes is to be reduced to a maximum of eight inches from heel to top, with the same maximum for overgaiters or "spats."

All shoes, both leather and fabric, will be restricted to black, white and two cloors of tan. Patent leather will be black only.

Shoe manufacturers may not, for the next six months, introduce, purchase or use any new style lasts.

Manufacturers are especially urged to encourage the sale of low-cut and low-effects in shoes; to reduce the number of boot samples for women and to co-operate with retailers and wholesalers to restrict the return of merchandise.

Marked changes are prescribed for men's clothing. Sack coats will be shorter, with a minimum of 30 inches for 36 sizes and 1½ inches added for "longs." Double-breasted overcoats will be eliminated, and the length of topcoats will be a minimum of 43 inches for 36 sizes and two inches to be added for "longs."

Only three outside pockets will be allowed in sack coats and facings will not exceed 4½ inches.

Side and back straps and flaps of trousers are to be eliminated, and no re-enforcement of trousers can be made with wool cloth.

Not more than ten models of sack suits are to be put out.

The maximum length of rain coats is fixed at 48 inches, while the maximum width of collars will be 3½ inches. All double coats with detachable linings for civilian use are to be eliminated.

IT IS TO SMILE

Supply and Demand.

Peddler — Any tins, ma'am?

Housekeeper (indignantly) — Those tins you sold me last week have all gone to pieces.

Peddler—Yes'm. I knew you'd want some more by this time.

Most Unusual.

"Who is the pompous gentleman?"

"A self-appointed investigator of conditions who has just returned from the front."

"With a 'message,' of course?"

"No. Strange to say, he didn't bring back a 'message.'"

Both Ways.

"Do you think if we save on this performance by cutting out the calcium, the public will look on it as a breach of faith?"

"I think it will tend to put the show in a very bad light."

Desperate Chance.

"Why did Smith marry his typewriter?"

"I suppose he thought it was his only chance of being the family dictator."

Aid to Caution.

The Driver—Yes, I married my old girl through sympathy, like. Yes see, I knocked 'er down wiv me old taxi.

The Misogynist—They wouldn't be so many blinkin, accidents then.

The Reason.

"How quietly that automobile came along."

"Yes; I suppose the wheels are so quiet because they're all tired."

Bomb Shells

In the good old days a girl blushed. Nowadays, according to the novelist, a wave of color suffuses her cheeks.

With their natural propensity for devising substitutes maybe the Germans will yet find one for the kaiser.

Many a man who gives the head waiter a big tip just because people were looking would enjoy catching him out in a boat and giving him a bigger one—when people weren't looking.

Food for thought is never predigested.

Pure Water for Troops.

To provide pure drinking water for American soldiers in the trenches and at other places where permanent waterworks have not been established, mobile water trains have been constructed and are operating in France under the jurisdiction of the army medical department. A statement by the surgeon general says each train is a miniature water filtration plant and carries an expert chemist, bacteriologist and pumpman.

No Co-operation.

"I always try to make the best of a bad situation," remarked Mr. Glithery.

"What do you do when your water pipes freeze and then burst?"

"Oh, I sing a little song, just to show that I'm not worrying."

"That's highly commendable."

"But when the water begins to leak on the people who occupy the flat beneath mine, to save my life I can't persuade them to join me in singing."

An Important Point.

"Your wife has imaginary ailments."

"Um."

"I'll just give her some imaginary medicine."

"Um. What kind of a bill are you going to render in this case, doc?'

Great Help.

"It isn't the small amount of money involved, it's the principle of the thing."

"Um."

"You approve that stand, do you not?"

"You bet I do," declared the attorney. "It keeps many a lawyer in business."

New Torpedo "Catcher" Said to Frustrate a Shipwreck

A new method of fighting the U-boat menace is for the attacked vessel to drop a depth charge as the torpedo approaches. In daylight the wake of the torpedo can usually be seen quite clearly. When the depth charge explodes it either causes the premature explosion of the torpedo or else diverts the deadly missile from its course. This was found out quite by accident. A ship's officer, in his excitement one day, threw a depth charge overboard. It did the trick.—Cassell's Journal.

Training Hawaiian Dancers.

Hawaiian dancers have a curious training for their profession, a correspondent writes. When they are little brown babies their mothers take them out in the sun and put a soft rubber ball on their stomachs. If they can keep the ball safely on the "tummy" they get something good to eat. If they let it roll off they got a spanking.

Set for About Five.

"What kind of an alarm clock have you, Smith?"

"Two years old, chubby, full of ginger and with lungs like a fire gong."—Boston Evening Transcript.

Vaulting.

"Speaking of vaulting ambition—"

"Yes?"

"Ferdy wants to be a champion at the high jump."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

KIDNEYS WEAKENING?

LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victime to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1696 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its preparation and sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In sealed boxes, three sizes.
